Dear Mr Soued,

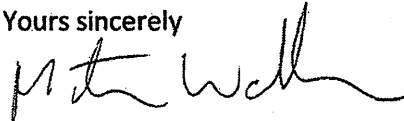

I hereby terminate the agreement made 26th February 2008 between myself and FRED Distribution relating to the board game, Brass.

As you know, I contacted your company in December 2014 asking for any outstanding royalty statements and payments. As you have not furnished all of the outstanding statements I feel within my rights to terminate the contract forthwith.

It is also the case that you have sublicensed the game to White Goblin without my written consent and have not provided the ten sample games arising from this edition.

To make sure the public are aware of the termination of this contract, I request that you make a public statement to that effect, no later than the 31st August 2015.

Yours sincerely

Martin Wallace
